

YAHOO PARENTS GROUP

First, a little history. The parents at St. Patrick's school desired a forum through which they could communicate with other parent's on various topics not related to school. An answer was found by utilizing a yahoo group that is moderated by a St. Patrick school parent. The moderator's responsibility is to read ALL e-mails submitted by yahoo members and decide whether or not the subject matter is appropriate for the yahoo site. This parent is also responsible for assuring that any/all members of this website are, indeed, parents of children at St. Patrick's school.

Examples of appropriate material for the website are:

1. I have a school uniform skirt size 6 for sale.
2. My company has just opened 3 new postions--anyone interested?
3. I need help with car pooling, can anyone help us out?
4. REMINDER--tonight is our fund-raiser!

Examples of material that would be rejected and NOT sent onto the site:

1. I don't agree with the school policy of "???" anyone with me?
2. Does anyone know why Mrs. "???" class does ???
3. I heard that Mrs. "???" was yelling at a student--did anyone else hear about it?

This is not a forum for changing the school or complaining. Any problems, questions, concerns need to be directed to the teacher or Mr. Ridder. The yahoo parents group is not affiliated with the school in any way, and is a way parents can keep in touch and help each other out.

___ YES!! Please sign us up!(Even if already a member ALL records are going to be updated--so please enroll or you will be dropped off the list!!)

Name _____ E-MAIL _____

Address _____

Phone _____ Signature _____

___ No thank you, we are not interested at this time(please fill in name only